PLATE XLVII

It is remarkable that a great portion of the flora which we find in the United States, are of European origin. Having examined the list of the flora of this country, many of these vegetables have settled upon growing and moving lands, such as the Ranunculus bulbosus, scilla and repens, indis-tinguishedly called Buttercups, Crowfoot, and Colts foot; the Chrysanthemum leucanthemum, or White weed; the Rumex acetosella, or St. John's wort; the Hypericum perforatum, or St. John's wort, &c. In our cornfields and gardens are quartered the Couch grass, Triticum repens; the different species of Dandelion or Pig weed, Che-ryanthemum; the Dock, Rumex crispus, &c. The Charlock or Wild Radish, Raphanus Rapastrum; Burdock, Arctium lappa, &c. Some have
